A C.I.A. Atlas of China
Goes on Sale for $5.25

WASHINGTON, May 6 (UPI)
—For $5.25, any citizen can have his own Central Intelligence Agency document.

The Government Printing Office is offering for sale 30,000 copies of the C.I.A.'s new 82-page, multicolored atlas of the People's Republic of China.

Officials at the printing office said that except for an annual four-volume series listing the broadcasting stations of the world, the atlas was the only C.I.A. document they had produced for sale to the public.

In addition to detailed maps of modern China, the atlas, which has the C.I.A.'s seal on the cover, also contains historical maps, a number of charts depicting the growth of the Chinese economy, and a narrative accompanying the maps and charts.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Chief, Printing
Services Division, Office of Logistics

THROUGH: Deputy Director for Intelligence Eup

THROUGH: Deputy Director for Support

SUBJECT: China Atlas Commendation

1. Last November OBGI published with the expert assistance of PSD a comprehensive atlas of the People's Republic of China for government use in planning President Nixon's historic trip. Few Agency publications have enjoyed the enthusiastic reception that marked the appearance of this work. More than 2,000 copies were distributed through the government and another 2,000 copies have been sent out to non-government institutions and libraries concerned with China. At the moment of this writing, Agency stock is nearly exhausted and with your encouragement the Government Printing Office has agreed to reprint the atlas in bulk for public sale.

2. I feel the atlas is an outstanding Agency accomplishment. It got out on time, it set widely acknowledged high standards of professionalism and effectiveness, and it brought great credit to the Agency. I am extremely grateful to you and your organization for the skill, imagination, and hard work that PSD contributed to this enterprise. Please convey my appreciation to all those who were involved.

Dear Mr. Humphrey:

This will confirm the arrangement recently concluded between Mr. Robert Kling, Superintendent of Documents, and [redacted] Chief of our Printing Services Division, whereby the Government Printing Office will print and offer for public sale copies of our publication "People's Republic of China Atlas." It is understood that this will be accomplished at no cost to this Agency.

We greatly appreciate your cooperation in this matter as the publication has received a great deal of public attention. We feel that it should be available for a wider distribution than our mission visualizes and our facilities permit.

In the event we produce unclassified publications in the future which appear salable as public documents, we will contact the Superintendent of Documents in order to ascertain your interest.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. McNally:

I certainly appreciate your 7 March letter complimenting this Agency on the China Atlas. This Atlas was prepared by our Office of Basic and Geographic Intelligence and as you undoubtedly realize, required a great deal of time and effort. It is indeed gratifying to hear words of praise from professionals like yourself.

I agree with your views that the Atlas should be made available to the American public in general and to this end we have turned over the reproducibles to the Government Printing Office. GPO anticipates a fairly large run with sales to begin sometime this summer.

We have received other queries from commercial printing firms and we are advising them of our GPO arrangement because this may render it commercially impractical for these firms.

Again my thanks for your kind words and I will see they reach the appropriate people on my staff.

Sincerely,

SIGNED,

"Our 116th Year"
March 7, 1972

Dear Mr. Helms:

I have just seen the Atlas of China and I hasten to compliment your organization and especially your cartographic staff on a superb publication. Its concept, its content, its design and its cartographic excellence have gained the admiration of all of us at Rand McNally. Surely this atlas can fill a long-felt void in maps and atlas materials that has plagued American scholars of Chinese affairs.

The changing realities of today's world strongly recommend that such a volume receive widespread circulation among not only the academic community but also the general public at large. As suppliers of a wide variety of atlases, Rand McNally would be most interested in obtaining the reproducibles for the Atlas of China in order to publish this work in part or in whole for the American user. We make this request in full awareness of the kinds of restrictions that normally attend the use of such materials, but we are so persuaded that this publication merits wide dissemination that we are taking the liberty of writing to you directly for permission to proceed in that direction. It would be our intention to publish an atlas which would reach the general public through our Trade Division, universities and school students from our Education Division, and the business and commercial world through another special marketing division.

Naturally, we would pay the full costs of material and labor, and we would agree to give due credit if this were desired. While each element of the atlas is outstanding, we might wish to alter the contents or format; our principal interest, in any case, focusses on the regional and thematic maps.

It is our belief, furthermore, that a commercial version of this atlas inevitably will appear because it is simply too good to remain as a limited edition. We sincerely hope, therefore, that you will favorably consider our request to obtain the appropriate materials, and we would like to assure you again that we would abide by any restrictions regarding the identification of the contents.

We hope we may look forward to hearing from you on this matter.

Sincerely yours,

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Inquiry to Reproduce Agency's China Atlas

1. On 1 March Mr. Thuermer raised at the Morning Meeting an inquiry he had received from the local representative of "Facts on File" regarding the desire of his company headquarters in Chicago to reproduce the Agency's China Atlas. Mr. Houston stated that the Government had no property rights on such printed material and confirmed Mr. Proctor's statement that the plates would have to be made available under the Freedom of Information Act if the requestor agreed to pay for them. The Director seemed disinclined to volunteer but agreed that we should stand aside if the company decided to proceed.

2. After the meeting I checked with Mr. Blake and learned that there had been no contact with the O/L front office or with PSD on this matter. In later talking to Mr. Thuermer I learned that he had not talked to Mr. Houston or to Mr. Proctor having decided to raise this matter at this morning's meeting. He had however mentioned it at lunch on 29 February when DD/I officers were present and this is likely how the news spread. Mr. Thuermer recognized that further action necessitated discussion with us and we agreed that when he again talked with "Facts on File" local representatives Mr. Blake or [] should be present. (He also agreed that we should arrange a tour of PSD facilities for him before such an additional discussion takes place.) I passed this to Mr. Blake.

3. Late on 2 March Mr. Blake brought in a paper prepared by [] in response to a request from D/OBGI for use in a DD/I meeting 3 March. After some discussion of the precedent which our action seemed to involve we got together with Mr. Houston. Mr. Houston confirmed that the Agency would be required to provide "reproducables" to any publisher who requested them and was prepared to reimburse. We suggested and Mr. Houston agreed that it would be preferable to put this problem in the hands of the Public Printer.

4. Having failed to reach them on 2 March, I spoke separately with Mr. Thuermer and Mr. Proctor on 3 March to acquaint them with the problem noted above as well as our proposed solution. Mr. Proctor urged that we not go to the Public Printer until we were faced with a demand by "Facts on File" or the publisher for "reproducables." I chatted with Messrs. Blake, Houston and Thuermer and all agreed to this adjustment in our position. Mr. Blake will instruct [redacted] accordingly. Subsequently I informed Mr. Colby of this decision.
